Frank L. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,430

The president takes a Root that has already sprouted.

With 39 deaths and 3,169 injuries from celebrating on Tuesday, the glorious Fourth seems to have been vindicated in this country of ours.

The passing of the trading stamp in Montpelier is marked by the agreement of the dry goods merchant to discontinue the use after the first of September. The scheme had a full trying out in that city, and one after another the various branches of trade are going back to the former method of doing business. Some time since, we believe, the grocery-men at that place decided that they would discontinue the use of the stamp.

The troubles with a few riotous militiamen at Vermont National Guard encampments are insignificant when compared with the outbreaks which the Massachusetts guardsmen are responsible for. To quote from a Boston exchange: "The citizens of Westfield had their first unpleasant experience with the state troops last evening when hundreds of soldiers left their camps and went into town. Most of them drank freely of intoxicating liquor, with the result that they made trouble for the police, insulted women on the streets, and did many other things not to the credit of the Massachusetts militia." The disturbance became so serious that a whole company of regulars was sent out to round the rioters up and place them in confinement. When young men get away from the restraints of familiarity they are quite apt to lose their sense of proper self-control. They get to feel that where they are not known, where possibly their friends will not hear of their lapses, they are at liberty to cut loose and enter escapades which they would not dare to do in other conditions. The troubles of this sort in the Vermont National Guard encampments have not been so serious that outside aid had to be secured to quell the outbreak, the provost guard having been sufficient. The reason for calling upon a company of regulars in the Massachusetts encampment was that a recent act of the legislature in that state abolished the provost guard.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our gratitude to the friends who have so kindly given us help and sympathy during the illness, death and burial of our husband, and rather, also for the many and beautiful floral gifts.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Exceptional Facilities.

"You don't subscribe to the newspaper?" asked the visiting neighbor.
 "No," answered the hostess; "we know more than the newspaper can tell. My husband is a census taker."—Washington Star.

Timing it.

"De Riter tells me that for a whole year he didn't write a thing that was worth while."
 "Yes; I believe it took him a year to write that latest novel of his."—Philadelphia Press.

From a Popular Song.

When I am dead and "Number Two" is ever present to the view,
 And she would "Number Two" rebuke
 By Matthew, Mark and John and Luke,
 Then she'll remember me!
 —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Terrible.

"Why did Subhub toss that agent over the hedge?"
 "Why, he wanted to sell him a lawn mower that would play ragtime while it was being pushed."—Chicago News.

A Word in Vindication.

But let it be borne in mind
 Concerning that wordy fight
 That when the pot called the kettle black
 The blamed old pot was right.
 —New York Press.

Fiji Courtship.

"Alas, Gazaboosie, I fear I can never win her love. Twice have I fractured her skull with my war club, but she remains cold and distant still."—Boston Journal.

CHELSEA.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas of Montpelier were in town Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Medcraft of East Brookfield, were guests at W. W. Perkins' on July 4th.

Col. and Mrs. C. S. Emery left Wednesday morning for a fortnight's vacation which they will spend camping in Maine.

Prentiss George of Waltham, Mass., who formerly clerked for Ordway, Holmes & Co., is spending his vacation with friends in town.

Hon. Hale K. Darling was at home from his work at Montpelier to spend the Fourth with his family. He returned to Montpelier the following day.

A. D. Blossom, the efficient and congenial nurse who for six weeks had the care of the Hon. J. K. Darling, left for his home in Boston Thursday morning.

Mrs. C. M. Bickford who was so seriously ill for several months last winter at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. H. Sprague, has so far regained her health as to be able to ride out.

While it was generally understood that there was to be "nothing doing" here on the glorious Fourth, as the morning dawned, it was apparent to all, and generally so conceded, that there had been something doing during night time as the entire length of Main, Jail and Court streets, gave unmistakable evidence.

Farmers are quite generally commencing their haying this week and are reporting the outlook as good for more than an average crop of unusually nice quality as the result of abundant sunshine interspersed with sufficient rain, which has been frequent enough to keep all plant life steadily growing and approaching maturity without cessation.

Carpenters commenced labor last Monday on the old Tarbell block which was last year purchased by F. A. Ordway. This block is said to be one of the most ancient structures within the village limits, and that this old landmark may be preserved, perpetuated and remodeled with the modern ideas, handiwork and adornments, is a source of pleasure and gratification to our citizens.

Many of our citizens went to Tunbridge to enjoy the celebration there, while others went to Williamstown. During the evening of the 4th there was a nice display of fireworks executed in front of the residence of W. F. Hood, where a large part of the residents of the village had assembled to enjoy the pyrotechnics. Music by the phonograph on the porch of Byron Berry throughout the evening was a pleasant feature of the evening and like the fireworks was much enjoyed by all.

Sheriff Sprague, assisted by Officers Adams and Godfrey of Chelsea, W. E. and Dan Worthley and Downing of Washington searched the Gulf Spring House and out buildings during the early morning of July 4th for "wet goods," but nothing was found bearing the slightest evidence of present or anticipated illegal traffic in intoxicating liquor. Such a result of a search of this kind speaks a good word for the house and its management under the supervision of its popular and courteous proprietor, A. S. Cowles.

At a meeting of the "Old Home Week" executive committee on Wednesday evening the following committees appointed by the president, E. D. Barnes, were announced: Committee on invitation, W. S. Hatch, Mrs. W. F. Hood, Mrs. H. O. Bixby; on location, Hon. H. K. Darling, H. S. Ames, W. C. Holmes; on programme, Mrs. Geo. J. Helmer, Col. H. O. Bixby, Mrs. W. S. Hatch and Mrs. F. W. Lewis; on finance, W. P. Townsend, G. L. Hayward, E. N. Bacon; on decoration, B. H. Adams, Jr., J. B. Atwood, Dr. A. T. Marshall, Mrs. C. H. Corlies and Miss Edith Dearborn; on badges, H. N. Mattison, W. H. Sprague, E. A. Corwin; on publication, Prof. J. W. Comstock, Mrs. A. W. Whitney, Mrs. E. D. Barnes; on fireworks, Geo. A. Tracy, A. H. Morey, Geo. E. Hatch.

THE ROYAL BOX.

King Edward has a stick made of the wood of one of the piles that supported old London bridge.

The emperor of Austria has so many titles that they are almost past numbering. For instance, he is nine times king.

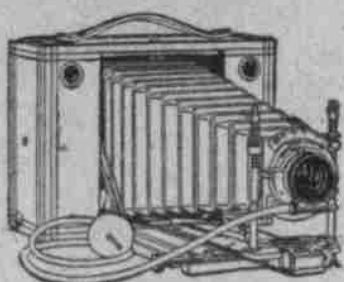

The czaritzza has just given her little son his first toys, a couple of little manikins possessing the properties of the multiplying eggs and the nests of boxes long familiar to American children.

No modern occupant of a throne has traveled more frequently abroad since his accession than Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria. He became ruler of the principality in 1887 and since then has spent 1,700 days, or nearly a quarter of his reign, abroad. His people know him by the nickname of the Traveler.

A Modest Request.

As the result of a sad experience with reckless chauffeurs, the owner of a dwelling at the corner of two streets in Basingstoke, England, has put upon it a placard reading, "Motor car drivers are requested to leave this house where it is."

Paris Green would be cheap at any price when you think of the rapidity at which potato bugs multiply and take into consideration the amount of damage they will do if you do not take means to destroy them.

The Paris Green we're selling this season is of a particularly deadly quality. Use it before the next set of eggs is laid and you'll have better potatoes and save yourself much work.
